Rich Griffin #1Saves8 Campaign: Be a Life Saver!

Before his sudden death on May 23, 2015, Rich Griffin was known as a kindhearted, loving family man and friend to thousands of radio listeners in the Sudbury community. At the end of his 14-year role as morning host on KiSS 105.3, along with his good friend and "non-romantic life partner", Gary Beech, KiSS aired a wonderful and moving tribute to Rich to help the community mourn its loss.

Rich's generous spirit lives on due to his final act of giving. His heart, along with his lungs, kidneys and liver were successfully transplanted, saving five lives. His eyes, vessels and pancreas islets (pronounced "eyelets") will impact even more lives through future transplants and research.

On November 23, 2015, Rich's widow Nancy and her friends launched The Rich Griffin #1Saves8 Campaign at 1Saves8.ca. It aims to honour Rich's memory by increasing the number of registered organ donors, and by raising funds to support the financial needs of Northern Ontario transplant patients and their families.

The Need is GR8!

Transplant patients can incur tens of thousands of dollars in out-of-pocket expenses while waiting for an organ and during post-transplant care. Living in close proximity to the transplant centre is often a requirement of being put on the waiting list for this life-saving surgery. This can mean patients have to take a leave of absence or possibly lose a job while trying to find affordable accommodations for themselves and their loved ones. Children in this situation can look to Ronald McDonald House, but sadly, there is no Ronald McDonald house for adults. As a result, families without the money endure terrible hardships and stress...just ask Sudbury native Tina Giroux Proulx, and Sault residents Ronna Dawson and Lindsay Wonnacott, who all had to move to Toronto recently to await an organ; and Sudbury's Richard Giroux, who is still waiting for a liver.

To respond to the need, a campaign highlight will be the Rich Griffin #1Saves8 Gala, happening May 14, 2016 in Sudbury at the Holiday Inn. The event will help keep Rich's memory alive while bringing greater awareness to the importance of organ donation and raising funds to support the financial needs of Northern Ontario transplant patients and their families.
